INSTRUCTIONS TO BIDDERS

In submitting a tender, the bidder accepts in full and without restriction the special and general conditions governing this tender as the sole basis of this tendering procedure. The bidder accepts the AHA Centre General Terms and Conditions of Purchase by default, or will include its own Sales conditions in its offer. If the bidder wishes to point out restrictions to the AHA Centre Terms and Conditions, such reservations should be clearly explained in a letter included in the offer.

Failure to submit a tender containing all the required information and documentation within the deadline specified will lead to the rejection of the tender.

1. Preamble

1. The AHA Centre – ASEAN Coordinating Centre for Humanitarian Assistance on disaster management – is an inter-governmental organisation established by 10 ASEAN Member States – Brunei Darussalam, Cambodia, Indonesia, Lao PDR, Malaysia, Myanmar, Philippines, Singapore, Thailand, and Viet Nam - to facilitate the cooperation and coordination among ASEAN Member States and with the United Nations and international organisations for disaster management and emergency response in the region.

2. The AHA Centre was established on 17 November 2011 during the 19th ASEAN Summit in Bali, Indonesia, through the signing of “the Agreement on the Establishment of the ASEAN Coordinating Centre for Humanitarian Assistance on disaster management (AHA Centre)” by the ASEAN Foreign Ministers, witnessed by all ASEAN Heads of State/Government.

3. As the primary coordinating centre on disaster management in the region, the AHA Centre has responded to 40 incidents of disaster and conducted various activities in the region. The National Disaster Management Organisations (NDMOs) of the ASEAN Members States also have to deal with day-to-day monitoring and respond to small and large-scale disasters in their respective countries. Based on experience, a problem may occur during a crisis which can complicate the communication process, negatively affect the organisation’s reputation, and cause losing public trust towards the organisation. Therefore, it is important to the Centre and any other organisations, including the National Disaster Management Organisations (NDMOs), to take control of the situation and maintain organisational and public communications. To be able to handle the crisis, a proper crisis communication management is also needed, which includes preparedness, planning, responding, handling, and restoring the crisis.

4. A crisis can be defined as an event or set of circumstances, predicted or unexpected, that has happened or is about to happen and which, if not handled in an appropriate and timely manner, may escalate further and/or cause serious damage to the organisation, its stakeholders, its property or its reputation, and/or the environment. In this regard, crisis communication aims at preventing or lessening the negative outcomes resulting from a crisis, often crisis communication has an informative function. Crisis communication should provide clear information on the current state of the crisis and guidance on what action should now be taken. Clear messages issued by the organisations or authorities during crisis are perceived to be crucial for public in order to receive appropriate information in a timely manner. In the context of disasters or emergencies, a good communication system is an important asset for the affected country because it will help the individuals and communities to be more resilient during the uncertain situation. The trust from public, in this case the affected communities, becomes one of the most important variables in effective communication management in times of disasters.

5. In the context of ASEAN, there is a potential activation of the role of the Secretary-General of ASEAN as the ASEAN Humanitarian Assistance Coordinator (SG-AHAC) when a large-scale disaster occurs in the region. When SG AHAC is activated, Secretary-General of ASEAN will be the main ASEAN communication focal point for communicating to the ASEAN Member States and external partners. A clear crisis communication management will also be crucial in this situation to help absorb any communication disturbances.

6. To ensure effective communication process as well as communication management, it is crucial to develop a proper Crisis Communication Manual and implement it, including through the utilisation of social media tools and management. The consultant will help the AHA Centre to review, develop, the Crisis Communications Manual, which also includes social media tools and management, and implement the Manual through training to the AHA Centre staff and NDMOs' communication focal points.

2. Purpose of the call for tenders

The Purpose of this Call for Tender is to select the Consultant for the Consultant for the development and training implementation of the AHA Centre's Crisis Communication and Social Media.

The AHA Centre's Goods Business Regulations

These Good Business Regulations are the ground for a professional working relationship between the AHA Centre and the Tenderer.

They are general regulations valid unless other particular conditions are mentioned in the contract. In case of conflicting terms within documents, the conditions of the contract or tender dossier will prevail on these Good Business Regulations.

I. Principles of the procurement procedures

The AHA Centre has transparent procedures to award markets. Essential principles are

- Transparency in the procurement process
- Proportionality between the procedures followed for awarding contracts and the value of the markets
- Equal treatment of potential Consultants

Usual criteria for selecting a consultant are:

- Authorisation to perform the market
- Financial and economic capacities
- Technical expertise
- Professional capacities

Usual criteria to award markets are:

- Automatic award (the cheapest offer complying with all requirements)
- Best value for money (price/quality ratio)

II. Misbehaviour, ineligibility and exclusion

The AHA Centre considers the following misbehaviour as a valid ground for a systematic exclusion of an awarding market procedure and the termination of all working relationships and contracts:

- Fraud defined as any intentional act or omission relating to:
 - The use or presentation of false, incorrect or incomplete statements or documents, which has as its effect the misappropriation or wrongful retention of the AHA Centre or institutional donors' funds
 - Non-disclosure of information, with the same effect
 - The misapplication of such funds for purposes other than those for which they were originally granted
- Active corruption: to deliberately promise or give an advantage to an official for him/her to act or refrain from acting in accordance with his/her duty in a way which damages or is likely to damage the AHA Centre or institutional donors' financial interests
- Collusion: the co-ordination of firm competitive behaviour, with the likely result that prices rise, output is restricted and the profits of the colluding companies are higher than they would otherwise be. Collusive behaviour does not always rely on the existence of explicit agreements between firms, but can also be tacit.
- Coercive practice: harming or threatening to harm, directly or indirectly, persons, or their property to influence their participation in a procurement process, or affect the execution of a contract.

- Bribery: to offer the AHA Centre employees monetary or in-kind gifts in order to gain additional markets or to continue a contract
- Involvement in a criminal organisation or any other illegal activity established by a judgement, by the US Government, the European Union, the United Nations or any other donor funding the AHA Centre.
- Immoral Human Resources practices: exploitation of child labour and the non-respect of basic social rights and working conditions of employees or sub-Consultants

The AHA Centre will exclude from a procurement procedure any candidate or tenderer falling into one of the following cases:

- To be bankrupt or to be wound up, to have affairs administered by the courts, to have entered into an arrangement with creditors, to have suspended business activities, to be the subject of proceedings concerning those matters, or are in any analogous situation arising from a similar procedure provided for in national legislation or regulations
- To have been convicted of an offence concerning professional conduct by a judgement that has the force of res judicata
- To have been guilty of grave professional misconduct proven by any means that the AHA Centre can justify
- To have not fulfilled obligations relating to the payment of social security contributions or the payment of taxes in accordance with the legal provisions of the country in which they are established or with those of the country where the AHA Centre mission is operating or those of the country where the contract is to be performed
- They have been the subject of a judgement that has the force of res judicata for fraud, corruption, involvement in a criminal organisation or any other illegal activity detrimental to the Communities' financial interests
- To have been declared to be in serious breach of contract for failure to comply with their contractual obligations in another previous procurement procedure

The AHA Centre will not award contracts to candidates or tenderers who, during the procurement procedure:

- Are subject to a conflict of interest
- Are guilty of misrepresentation in supplying the information required by the AHA Centre as a condition of participation in the contract procedure or fail to supply this information

III. Administrative and financial sanctions

In the event a consultant, candidate or tenderer is engaged in corrupt, fraudulent, collusive or coercive practices, the AHA Centre will impose:

- Administrative sanctions:

Administrative sanctions are the official notification of the misconduct to the relevant civil or commercial authorities and the immediate termination of all existing working relationships.

- Financial sanctions:

The AHA Centre will request the reimbursement of the cost linked directly and directly to the conduct of a new tendering process or market award. If any, the tender or performance guarantee will be kept by the AHA Centre.

IV. Information of and access for the Donors

The AHA Centre will inform immediately the institutional donors and will provide all the relevant information in the event a consultant, candidate or tenderer is engaged in corrupt, fraudulent, collusive or coercive practices.

Furthermore, the Consultants agree to guarantee a right of access to their financial and accounting documents to the representatives of the AHA Centre's institutional donors for the purposes of checks and audits.

V. Documents to be a consultant

Hereafter is the minimal documentation a consultant working with the AHA Centre will have to provide:

- Personnel national id document of the consultant/company representative
- Status and registration of the company
- Mission order or power of attorney authorising the representative to contact

Important note: Additional documentation may be required for a particular market.

In addition, the Consultant must have the capacity to issue invoices, receipts and waybills (or delivery notes), to provide a tax clearance certificate and certify documents with an official stamp.

VI. Anti-Corruption Policy

If you believe that the action of anyone (or a group of people) working or volunteering for the AHA Centre programs is responsible for violating the above rules, you should file a report through the Whistle-blower Email Hotline.

In order to enable the treatment, reports should give as precise information as possible; your name and contact are optional but encouraged. All reports are treated confidentially to the extent permissible by law.
