INSTRUCTIONS TO BIDDERS

In submitting a tender, the bidder accepts in full and without restriction the special and general conditions governing this tender as the sole basis of this tendering procedure. The bidder accepts the AHA Centre General Terms and Conditions of Purchase by default, or will include its own Sales conditions in its offer. If the bidder wishes to point out restrictions to the AHA Centre Terms and Conditions, such reservations should be clearly explained in a letter included in the offer.

Failure to submit a tender containing all the required information and documentation within the deadline specified will lead to the rejection of the tender.

1. Preamble

1. The AHA Centre – ASEAN Coordinating Centre for Humanitarian Assistance on disaster management – is an inter-governmental organisation established by 10 ASEAN Member States – Brunei Darussalam, Cambodia, Indonesia, Lao PDR, Malaysia, Myanmar, Philippines, Singapore, Thailand, and Viet Nam - to facilitate the cooperation and coordination among ASEAN Member States and with the United Nations and international organisations for disaster management and emergency response in the region.

2. The AHA Centre was established on 17 November 2011 during the 19th ASEAN Summit in Bali, Indonesia, through the signing of “the Agreement on the Establishment of the ASEAN Coordinating Centre for Humanitarian Assistance on disaster management (AHA Centre)” by the ASEAN Foreign Ministers, witnessed by all ASEAN Heads of State/Government.

3. The ASEAN Coordinating Centre for Humanitarian Assistance on Disaster management (AHA Centre) has envisioned itself to become the Knowledge Hub in disaster management for ASEAN. This initiative necessitates a robust step to gain a comprehensive understanding of the current capabilities and its impacts, as well as the steps needed to achieve this vision. This endeavour is directly aligned with the AHA Centre’s 2021-2025 Work Plan for scoping study, specifically pertaining to sub-output 3.2.4.1.1 A study to define disaster information (DI) products and needs conducted, and 5.1.1.1.1 A scoping study on knowledge management (KM) needs of ASEAN stakeholders conducted.

5. As the AHA Centre aims to strengthen its role as a knowledge hub for disaster management in the ASEAN region it is prominent to assess its effectiveness in its capacity. This scoping study allows the AHA Centre to review the existing efforts to share knowledge and identify areas for further improvements. Understanding the gaps and opportunities in the AHA Centre’s knowledge management system is a step towards enhancement. The scoping study will serve to outline such gaps and provide recommended interventions to address them. Additionally, this scoping study is also expected to provide recommendations to strengthen the AHA Centre’s knowledge management processes to ensure that the knowledge and information products and platform produced are consistent, relevant and meet the needs of key stakeholders

Scope of Works

Consultancy: Technical Consultant for the Development of the ASEAN Emergency Telecommunication Network Master Plan and Capacity Building Plan

Reporting to: ICT Manager

Duration: 1 year, March 2024 – January 2025.

Location: Remote, with required on-site presence for workshops and meetings in the ASEAN region.

BACKGROUND

1. In the effort to operationalise the One ASEAN One Response vision, ASEAN aims to harness the individual and collective strengths of different sectors and stakeholders in ASEAN to effectively respond to disasters. This will strengthen the commitments of ASEAN to respond collectively to achieve faster response, mobilise greater resources, and establish stronger coordination. ASEAN Joint Disaster Response Plan (AJDRP) is a framework that seeks to assist the ASEAN Member States and other partners to identify standby resources in the form of assets, experts, and other response capacities as part of the ASEAN Standby Arrangements. There are nine areas/modules with specific types of assets and capabilities identified to address the humanitarian needs. One of those areas includes Emergency Telecommunications as its eighth module. Based on the ASEAN Standby Arrangement, further standardisation will be needed at the regional and country level by using existing international standards as a reference to enhance the interoperability of the modules.

2. Developed in 2019, the ICT Roadmap in Disaster Management for 2025 and beyond has been guiding the AHA Centre in enhancing ICT development and capabilities to support the AHA Centre and interoperability with the ASEAN Member States for operationalising One ASEAN One Response. Emergency Telecommunication Network (ETN) was identified as the first ICT Strategic Pillar of the roadmap, with the following initiatives: i) establishment of emergency telecommunication on disaster management and ii) improvement of agility and mobility of emergency telecommunication infrastructure. The Emergency Telecommunication Network was later adopted in the ASEAN Agreement on Disaster Management and Emergency Response (AADMER) Work Programme 2021-2025, specifically within Priority Programme 3: Preparedness and Response.

3. Cooperation and collaboration that are systematically documented and coordinated at the regional level could reduce the redundancy of efforts. Coordination among stakeholders, and supply of equipment and experts, among others, can be enhanced further to aid timely response to disasters. The establishment of such a framework for orchestrating all the emergency telecommunication resources and collaborations within the ASEAN region and enhancing the capacity of ASEAN Member States (AMS) may address and fill the existing gaps and challenges.

4. With technology in telecommunication systems and infrastructures rapidly evolving, the capacity to improve the disaster risk management framework has become a critical factor in strengthening resilience. Strong, capable, and competent technical-level officials in utilising these systems and equipment is required to effectively prepare for, respond to, mitigate disaster impact, and manage risks in the ASEAN region. Built upon the input gathered during the ASEAN ETN Workshop initiated in the DELSA Phase III Project, the AHA Centre will continue to work with the AMS and stakeholders to conceptualise and develop the master plan of the ASEAN ETN. Setting up the ETN in ASEAN will require careful planning, collaboration, and resources to ensure that the ETN can effectively respond to emergencies in the region.

The objective of this consultancy is two-fold, with the primary objective being to develop a master plan for the ASEAN ETN, focusing on the definition of pillars, the establishment of outputs, the design of relevant activities, the identification of indicators, and the creation of a detailed work plan.

6. Another objective is to develop a capacity-building plan in emergency telecommunication with a short and long-term vision of streamlining the training of technical specialists in NDMOs by leveraging the ETN masterplan to strengthen the capabilities of the AMS. Appendix 5:
The AHA Centre's Goods Business Regulations

These Good Business Regulations are the ground for a professional working relationship between the AHA Centre and the Tenderer.

They are general regulations valid unless other particular conditions are mentioned in the contract. In case of conflicting terms within documents, the conditions of the contract or tender dossier will prevail on these Good Business Regulations.

I. Principles of the procurement procedures

The AHA Centre has transparent procedures to award markets. Essential principles are

- Transparency in the procurement process
- Proportionality between the procedures followed for awarding contracts and the value of the markets
- Equal treatment of potential Consultants

Usual criteria for selecting a consultant are:

- Authorisation to perform the market
- Financial and economic capacities
- Technical expertise
- Professional capacities

Usual criteria to award markets are:

- Automatic award (the cheapest offer complying with all requirements)
- Best value for money (price/quality ratio)

II. Misbehaviour, ineligibility and exclusion

The AHA Centre considers the following misbehaviour as a valid ground for a systematic exclusion of an awarding market procedure and the termination of all working relationships and contracts:

- Fraud defined as any intentional act or omission relating to:
 - The use or presentation of false, incorrect or incomplete statements or documents, which has as its effect the misappropriation or wrongful retention of the AHA Centre or institutional donors' funds
 - Non-disclosure of information, with the same effect
 - The misapplication of such funds for purposes other than those for which they were originally granted
- Active corruption: to deliberately promise or give an advantage to an official for him/her to act or refrain from acting in accordance with his/her duty in a way which damages or is likely to damage the AHA Centre or institutional donors' financial interests
- Collusion: the co-ordination of firm competitive behaviour, with the likely result that prices rise, output is restricted and the profits of the colluding companies are higher than they would otherwise be. Collusive behaviour does not always rely on the existence of explicit agreements between firms, but can also be tacit.
- Coercive practice: harming or threatening to harm, directly or indirectly, persons, or their property to influence their participation in a procurement process, or affect the execution of a contract.

- Bribery: to offer the AHA Centre employees monetary or in-kind gifts in order to gain additional markets or to continue a contract
- Involvement in a criminal organisation or any other illegal activity established by a judgement, by the US Government, the European Union, the United Nations or any other donor funding the AHA Centre.
- Immoral Human Resources practices: exploitation of child labour and the non-respect of basic social rights and working conditions of employees or sub-Consultants

The AHA Centre will exclude from a procurement procedure any candidate or tenderer falling into one of the following cases:

- To be bankrupt or to be wound up, to have affairs administered by the courts, to have entered into an arrangement with creditors, to have suspended business activities, to be the subject of proceedings concerning those matters, or are in any analogous situation arising from a similar procedure provided for in national legislation or regulations
- To have been convicted of an offence concerning professional conduct by a judgement that has the force of res judicata
- To have been guilty of grave professional misconduct proven by any means that the AHA Centre can justify
- To have not fulfilled obligations relating to the payment of social security contributions or the payment of taxes in accordance with the legal provisions of the country in which they are established or with those of the country where the AHA Centre mission is operating or those of the country where the contract is to be performed
- They have been the subject of a judgement that has the force of res judicata for fraud, corruption, involvement in a criminal organisation or any other illegal activity detrimental to the Communities' financial interests
- To have been declared to be in serious breach of contract for failure to comply with their contractual obligations in another previous procurement procedure

The AHA Centre will not award contracts to candidates or tenderers who, during the procurement procedure:

- Are subject to a conflict of interest
- Are guilty of misrepresentation in supplying the information required by the AHA Centre as a condition of participation in the contract procedure or fail to supply this information

III. Administrative and financial sanctions

In the event a consultant, candidate or tenderer is engaged in corrupt, fraudulent, collusive or coercive practices, the AHA Centre will impose:

- Administrative sanctions:

Administrative sanctions are the official notification of the misconduct to the relevant civil or commercial authorities and the immediate termination of all existing working relationships.

- Financial sanctions:

The AHA Centre will request the reimbursement of the cost linked directly and directly to the conduct of a new tendering process or market award. If any, the tender or performance guarantee will be kept by the AHA Centre.

IV. Information of and access for the Donors

The AHA Centre will inform immediately the institutional donors and will provide all the relevant information in the event a consultant, candidate or tenderer is engaged in corrupt, fraudulent, collusive or coercive practices.

Furthermore, the Consultants agree to guarantee a right of access to their financial and accounting documents to the representatives of the AHA Centre's institutional donors for the purposes of checks and audits.

V. Documents to be a consultant

Hereafter is the minimal documentation a consultant working with the AHA Centre will have to provide:

- Personnel national id document of the consultant/company representative
- Status and registration of the company
- Mission order or power of attorney authorising the representative to contact

Important note: Additional documentation may be required for a particular market.

In addition, the Consultant must have the capacity to issue invoices, receipts and waybills (or delivery notes), to provide a tax clearance certificate and certify documents with an official stamp.

VI. Anti-Corruption Policy

If you believe that the action of anyone (or a group of people) working or volunteering for the AHA Centre programs is responsible for violating the above rules, you should file a report through the Whistle-blower Email Hotline.

In order to enable the treatment, reports should give as precise information as possible; your name and contact are optional but encouraged. All reports are treated confidentially to the extent permissible by law.
